

I have been a user of XM radio for some time now and am looking forward to the progress they are making in bringing new services to me. I ask that they be allowed to continue with their business as they see fit. Pressure against them by other radio media is not fair and un-american and against the traditions of competition in the United States.

Thomas K. Hinsdale